

Lamington

The unluckiest dog in the world.

Lamington

Synopsis

Lamington is a cute Boston Terrier puppy. He's sweet, nerdy, and completely adorable (like a cross between Charlie Brown and Gizmo from Gremlins) - and also really, really unlucky.

For him, anything that CAN go wrong, WILL go wrong.

From small things like winning a free donut then immediately dropping it on the floor, to fumbling a winning shot in his team's tennis final, Lamington is always prepared for the worst. He knows calamity is just around the corner, it's just a case of when and how.

Lamington

Synopsis

If he could stay home and snuggle up with a nice cup of gravy, he would. The only problem? It drives his friends nuts. They love Lamington, and love having fun with him even more. So Nigel, Casey, and Gregory see it as their mission to get Lamington out of the house and experience all the world has to offer.

Because his bad luck streak can't last forever... can it?

Lamington may be unlucky, but that won't stop him living his best life. (Just stay away from him in a thunder storm. You never know.)

Lamington

Lamington is a born introvert. He likes rainy days, power ballads, and hiding in the corner at parties. This is because any time he leaves his comfort zone something enormously unlucky happens. Lamington knows he's better off alone, but he's still brave enough to try new things with friends. A hero for our times.

Characters

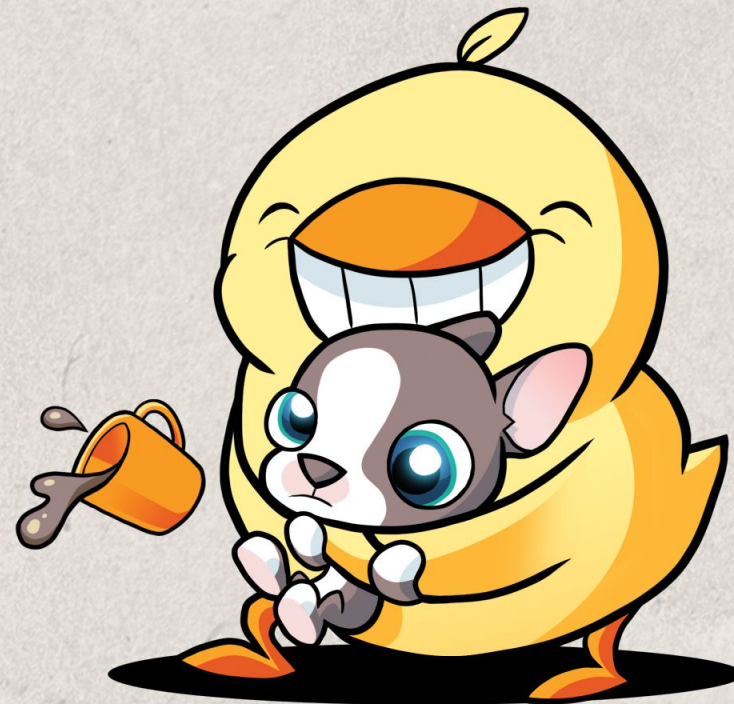

Nigel is a pug who knows exactly what he wants - to have fun all the time. For him, there's not a moment to be wasted. He's a great party organizer and (much to Lamington's annoyance) a budding life coach. He's decided to take Lamington under his wing and mould him into a confident winner.

Lamington

Characters

Casey is an energetic Labrador puppy who prides herself on her enthusiasm. She'll go along with any idea if it sounds fun. Heck, even if it doesn't sound fun. She'll turn it around and make it fun. She's the heart and soul of the group.

Gregory is a giant baby chicken. No one knows how he got so big or where he came from. He's super clumsy, has no idea what's going on half the time, but dang if he isn't cheerful. If you upset his good pal Lamington he'll crush you like an ant.

Lamington

Lamington's Bake Sale

Lamington needs to fix a leaky gutter outside his window and is raising money by having his first ever bake sale. After managing to create some serviceable cupcakes without burning down the kitchen, he sets up a table and looks forward to some brisk business. Unfortunately, a freak rainstorm hits the neighborhood and washes away his lemon frosting. Can his friends step in and help with some emergency baking?

Episode Ideas

Flowersitting

Lamington has to look after Casey's beloved houseplant until she gets back from the vet. It's her most prized possession, so he's under strict orders not to take his eyes off it. The only problem? Lamington has also been signed up for go-kart racing by Nigel. So, wherever Lamington goes, the flower goes. Will it survive the race? Will Lamington??

Lamington

Episode Ideas

The Time Capsule

Lamington decides to make a time capsule and the group buries it under Old Betsy, the largest oak tree in the area. Which immediately gets hit by lightning. When the gang flee home in terror, Lamington realizes he also buried his front door key along with the keepsakes. Now they must return to the strike zone to find the buried capsule (and deal with Lamington's guilty conscience) if they are ever to get back inside.

Lamington's Computer

Lamington has been working on a mystery novel for months, but the night he finishes the last chapter, his PC gets a virus. All his work will be lost unless Lamington does what the computer demands. The gang will need to work together to keep the computer happy while fixing the problem in secret, and maybe Lamington's literary debut will see the light of day.

Lamington

Experience life in the slow lane.

